Sound Off 729-4006 is your personal forum and squawk box. We broadcast your comments on most any subject. To sound your voice, please call 729-4006 after 5 p.m. on weekdays and anytime over the weekend. A word to the wise: you must not speak ill of your fellow citizens. Be brief. Be interesting. Otherwise we may edit you.

You're late, Mr. Mayor, but welcome to the newspaper boycott

To Inkster Mayor Edward Bivens, Jr. Welcome to the Detroit News boycott. Tens of thousands of citizens have been boycotting the News and Free Press for over 40 months now.

But hey! better late than never. The strike/lockout ain't over yet. Spread that boycott message.

Boycott 'News' and 'Free Press' for unfair labor practices

Mayor Bivens ought to already be boycotting the News and Free Press because of the unfair labor practices, which they are doing by not putting back their locked-out workers.

Court workers should be penalized for losing child support payments

I'm calling in reference to your article, "Deadbeat parents get the boot."

What about deadbeat court workers, where parents do send the child support payments, but yet the children don't receive it. Maybe the court people should lose their jobs if they're going to put the boots on these parents' vehicles.

In a year it's Wayne voters turn to reject Ken Warfield as mayor

I'm a long-time Wayne resident. I'm so glad Warfield didn't get elected to the state senate. Now it's up to the voters in 1999 - another year - to get him out of office in Wayne.

He doesn't do anything as a mayor. And how can he say that he's against corporate welfare? He voted for two 12-year tax abatements in the city of Wayne for Ford Motor Company, which has more than enough money and certainly need tax abatements.

He double talks.

Tougher false alarm law looms

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Plagued by on-going overnight business site false alarms, the Romulus City Council voted to toughen the false alarm law with heavier fees for police-fire department responses.

Mayor William Oakley said police department officials have urged such new cost factors to entice local business firm owners and managers to keep their fire alarm systems in good order.

It was felt that many of the overnight false alarms at empty business and industry offices were caused by systems that are not kept in good operational cycles.

Both police and fire teams respond to such calls and tie-up public safety personnel, when no business officials are on site, Oakley said.

Councilwoman Debbie Ro-

mak also expressed concerns that police and fire fighters could be called out to such a site, when a real emergency develops somewhere else in the city.

Councilman William Crova said when business operations don't keep their alarm equipment in good repair, the false alarm calls also irk other city residents, who live nearby.

Thus the city has introduced fee changes that would charge a business $100 for the third false alarm call in a calendar year, $200 for the fourth through sixth false alarm and $400 for the seventh or higher false alarm in a calendar year.

All of the city councilmen in attendance -- William Wadsworth was absent -- agreed that the fees were moderate, but could encourage better upkeep of local business alarm systems particularly with winter weather approaching.

The council will have to vote again on the ordinance update, before it becomes law in coming weeks.

In other council actions, final approval was voiced for an amended ordinance governing automobile service station operations.

The law change regulates and controls the problems of noise, odor, light, fumes, vibrations, dust, traffic congestion and any dangers of fire and explosion.

With the approval of the ordinance changes, now no existing service station will be allowed to structurally alter its premises to provide a lesser degree of conformity with the law's provisions.

In addition any new service station also must comply with the new regulations.

For further specifics on the ordinance change check with City Clerk Linda Choate.

Saved horse joins in Homecoming Parade

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Theresa Kemp loves horses. She fell in love with a mare named "Hope," who was rescued by Romulus police and animal control officials two years ago after they received reports that horses were not being taken care of on a seedy Romulus based horse farm.

The horse owners were arrested and fined and the surviving horses were sold at auction.

That is where Kemp met and purchased the underweight mare. "I love Hope and would not sell her for any amount of money today," Kemp said.

Romulus Animal Control Officer Kim Matthews encouraged Kemp and her fully recovered mare to appear in the recent Homecoming Parade. The adjoining photo shows that both were in the best of shape.

Eagles triumph, off to Haslett on Friday night

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The high-flying undefeated Romulus Eagles varsity football squad will take on a tough Haslett team at 7:30 Friday night, with the winner entering the state's semi-finals the following week.

The Eagles were down 14-0 last Saturday at Romulus Middle School's athletic field, when Eddie Woods intercepted a Sturgis pass to begin a powerful Romulus offensive effort that climaxed with a 54-35 win.

A total of 1,726 fans attended the Saturday game and witnessed speedster Freddie Russell rushing over 365 yards and scoring six touchdowns while igniting the spirits of the highly partisan Romulus crowd.

See story and other photos on page C-1

Romulus School District officials are offering buses with $2 tickets for Romulus students and other Eagle fans to this Friday night's post season game.

The Romulus High School's athletic department will also have directions on how to get to the Haslett football field for those who want to drive their own vehicles there.

Being it is a weekend game and the opening of bow and arrow hunting season, Romulus Athletic Director Jesse Meriweather urged local fans to allow at least two hours travel time to the game, since the school is near Lansing.

Romulus fan/spectator buses will be leaving the rear of Romulus High School about 4 p.m. Friday. One thousand post-season game tickets have been sent to Romulus High School for pre-game purchases. The Haslett football stadium reportedly has seating for about 4,000 persons.

For more information call Meriweather at 941-3414.

A thumbnail sketch on how to get to the Haslett High School football field is as follows: Take I-96 west to M-52 Webberville Exit. Turn right (north), M-52 will go over the railroad tracks and come to a stop.

Drivers will need to turn left (this is Grand River avenue), as M-52 takes a jog. At the next intersection, turn right and you will return to M-52.

Continue to travel north approximately 4-6 miles to the intersection of Haslett road and M-52, turn left (at the corner bearing a lavender/purple service station) and travel west on Haslett road for 6-8 miles to the first traffic light (Marsh road) and turn left (south on Marsh). The high school field is 3/4 of a mile on the left.

Judge Morcom of deepwell fame, defeated

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Claudia House Morcom, who gained fame in Romulus in recent years by issuing decisions in favor of the city in its long battle with Environmental Disposal Systems over the deepwell issue, lost her reelection bid last week.

Morcom was the only incumbent in the Third Circuit Court to lose her bid to keep her bench this year.

Ironically a Romulus candidate -- Sheila Gibson Manning -- was elected to replace Morcom.

Manning outpolled Morcom by about 4,000 area wide, 169,813 for Manning to 165,837 for Morcom. In Romulus Manning topped Morcom 1,637 to 1,433.

Make holiday requests

Christmas wish program offers assistance to needy

The season of giving is fast approaching. Once again, Michigan Community Newspapers is organizing its annual Christmas Wish project for Western Wayne County residents.

Each year, hundreds of area families receive Christmas gifts from MCN, courtesy of the newspaper chain, area businesses, community organizations and residents.

From bicycles to clothing to holiday dinners with all the trimmings, hundreds of gifts have been provided to the needy.

Western Wayne County families are encouraged to write holiday requests for themselves or for those in need to: Christmas Wishes, MCN, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, MI 48184.

Deadline for the letters is 5 p.m., Nov. 27. However, letters should be mailed early to insure that they meet the deadline.

Requesters are requested to include an address and work and home phone numbers in order for MCN staff members to obtain information, if needed.

All letters will be reviewed by the MCN staff before appearing in the Christmas Wishes supplement to the six MCN Thursday newspapers.

Four displays add to Midwest's largest holiday light show

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

No nighttime spectacle can compare to Wayne County LightFest, the Midwest's largest holiday show featuring 39 giant displays and nearly a million lights, the most in festival history. This year four new displays have been added including Santa's Canoe, Santa's Colossal Sleigh, a toy soldier shooting a cannon and Santa's Flight School with Parachuting Reindeer.

In its sixth year, the Wayne County LightFest runs nightly from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. November 19 through January 1 (closed December 25) along 4 1/2 miles of Hines Drive from Westland to Dearborn Heights. On November 19 there is a special day starting time of 6 p.m.

Each display features animation, and this year children can expect to see parachuting reindeer, a ball being shot across Inkster Bridge, Santa and his elves in a Christmas canoe and Santa's Sleigh ascending into the sky.

"More than a quarter of a million people attended LightFest last year, and thanks to their generous donations and our event sponsors, we've been able to make it even bigger this year," said Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara.

The efforts of our staff and the outstanding leadership of Wayne County allowed us to make this the biggest holiday light show in the country

At the end of the festival drive, visitors can stop by Santa's Shelter at the Warrendale Picnic Area for refreshments, gift shopping and - after November 25 - to take a picture with Santa Claus. A $5 minimum donation per car helps keep Wayne County LightFest operating. There is an additional charge for commercial vehicles and buses which are encouraged to pre-register. You can pick up TREATSEATS discount coupons for Wayne County LightFest at area Hudson's and Target Stores.

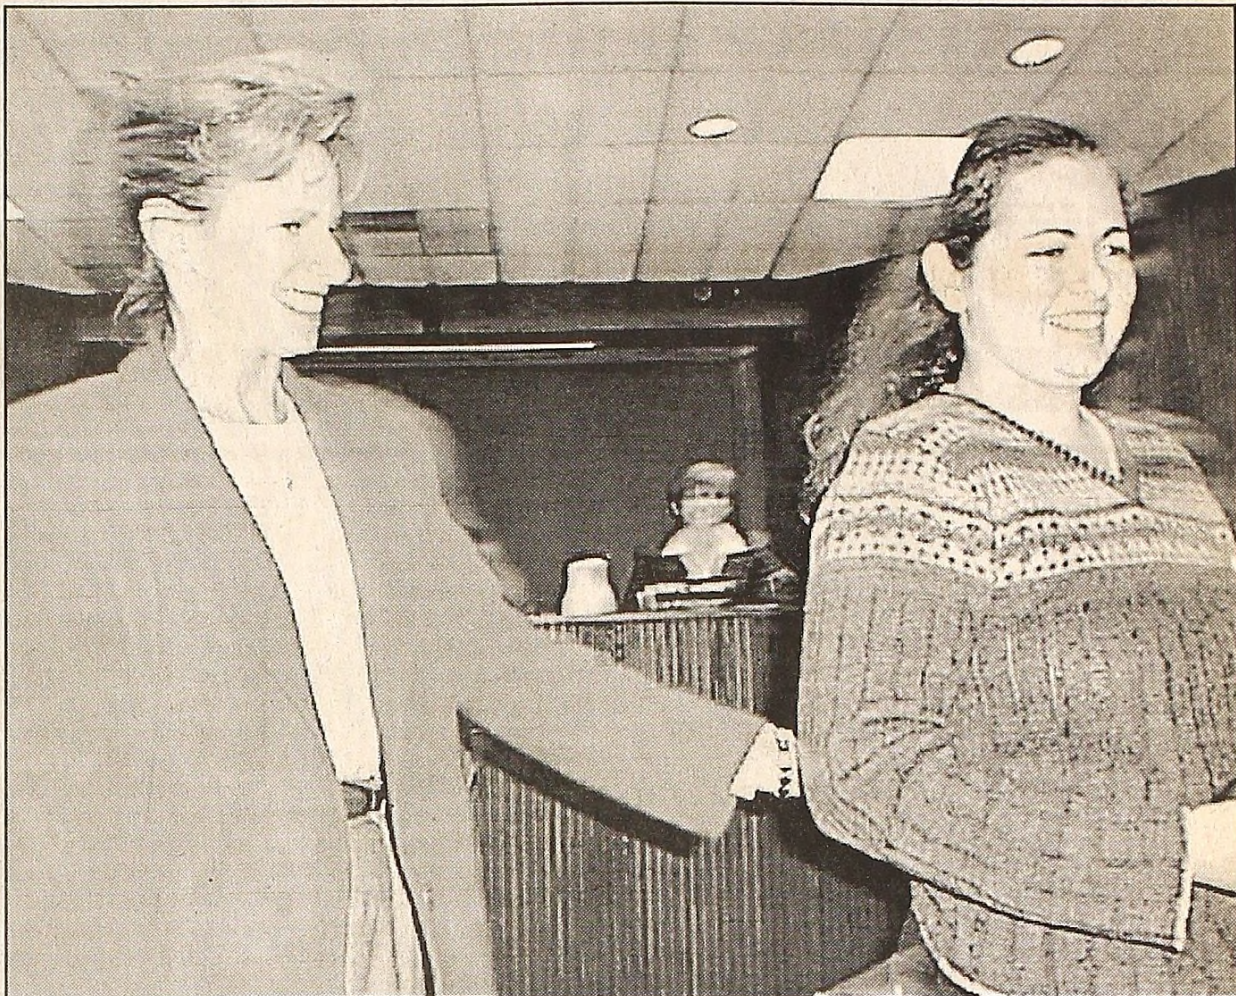

"The efforts of our staff and the outstanding leadership of Wayne County allowed us to make this the biggest holiday light show in the country," said Wayne County Parks Director Hurley Coleman. "It makes us feel good to continue to be part of this family tradition of creating good memories during the holidays."

Wayne County LightFest has been made possible through donations from festival visitors and event sponsors including AAA Michigan, Ameritech, Arbor Drugs, Blue Care Network of Southeast Michigan, Detroit Edison, Friends of Wayne County Parks and WDIV/TV4.

Although LightFest begins at 7 p.m., nightly, Hines Drive will be closed to traffic beginning at 5:45 p.m. Traffic enters Wayne County LightFest at Hines Drive and Merriman, 2 1/2 miles south of I-96 in Westland. For more information or to arrange a bus or limousine tour, call (734) 261-1990.

Canton Reports

Halloween weekend was relatively calm for Canton Public Safety officers. Extra patrol officers, on motorcycles and bicycles, were on hand for the weekend.

The calls listed below were received during the weekend of October 30, 31 and November 1. This list does not include all runs that were dispatched. A total of 298 calls were received.

Breaking and entering, 6. Assault and battery, 7. Traffic crashes, 15. Traffic accidents with injuries, 1. Civil/family troubles, 22. False alarms, 11. Larceny, 6. Destruction of property, 17. Stolen cars, 4.

Prior to the traditional trick-or-treating, officers went out to local schools and conducted Halloween Safety programs. During the programs, students were introduced to officers who make up the policing team.

After trick-or-treating, several check-points were set up for candy to be scanned with metal detectors. All in all, this was a safe weekend in Canton.

Westland Reports

On October 15, Westland Police responded to a call from a woman who asked them to mediate a five-year old neighbor dispute.

The dispute was over alleged harassment of her dogs. The officer who responded spoke to both officers accused each neighbor of harassment. Being that neither neighbor was willing to bury the hatchet, the officer advised both to stay away from each other.

A woman who returned home at 5:57am on October 17 made a complaint to police that she had to kick in the front door of her Westland home because her husband had locked her out.

The husband told responding officers that he locked her out because she had been at her boyfriend's house all night. He also said that he refused to give her the car keys because she was drunk.

After blowing a .08 on a breathalyzer, the woman agreed to leave the husband alone. In turn, he agreed to leave her alone.

The Body Shop Tanning Salon had a window smashed in and $50 stolen from the cash register over the night of October 15.

Police investigated the case, but there are not suspects or clues.

Van Buren Reports

A caller stated they were watching a reckless driver at Belleville Road and I-94 on October 23 at 2am.

Officers who responded made a traffic stop and a drunk driving arrest was made.

Someone called the police and fire to report a car fire on I-94 West, west of Belleville Road. Turned out to be a car overheated.

An apartment at Belleridge was reported broken into on October 23 at 3:10pm.

At 4:05pm, a resident on Oak Lane called police to report a domestic violence problem and a personal protection order violation.

Officers who responded made an arrest.

At 4:36pm on October 23, police and fire officials raced to Archwood Apartments for a fire.

Due to quick actions, the building was evacuated and the fire was extinguished with minimal damage.

On October 23, a 3 car accident was reported at Ecorse and Hannan Road at 6:25pm.

A larceny on the S. Service Drive at 4:37pm on October 24 resulted in 2 arrests.

Residents of Parkwood did not appreciate juveniles with BB guns on October 24.

The kids were handed over to the parents for punishments.

A 911 call from a cell phone on east bound I-94 and Belleville Road resulted in a drunk driving arrest on October 24 at 8pm.

A man called from the Van Buren Plaza to report his vehicle stolen. The vehicle was later recovered. His ex-girlfriend had the van.

Police had to run to Harbour Club to separate a couple of people in a verbal fight on October 24 at 11:18pm.

A station in the 11500 block of Belleville Road called police to report someone who drove off without paying for their gas.

Later, the person returned to make restitution.

Someone called police to report a body on the railroad tracks at Lauren Ct. and Elwell.

After a careful and cautious search, the caller turned out to be making a false report.

Meijer reported retail fraud on October 25 and an arrest was made.

A stolen vehicle was recovered in the Green Meadows complex on October 26 at 1:56pm.

Someone called from Town and Country to report a man with a gun.

$ aid sought for Mitch survivors

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The international Salvation Army currently is seeking donations to help with its efforts to assist the thousands of victims of Hurricane Mitch.

Monetary donations should be earmarked "Disaster Relief" and dropped off at your closest Salvation Army Corps facility in Westland, Plymouth or Dearborn Heights. Credit card donations may be made by calling 1-800-SAL-ARMY.

Army workers are on the scene in Honduras, Nicaragua, Mexico, El Salvador, Guatemala and Costa Rica working with the millions of homeless, hungry and needy.

In addition the Salvation Army Team Emergency Radio Network (SATERN), a global network of amateur radio operators, is providing emergency health and welfare communication for the emergency project.

The radio network is also helping in the assessment of hurricane damage to Central American communities, its infrastructures, as well as relaying messages from survivors to their friends and relatives in other parts of the world.

The Salvation Army in Belize is distributing clothing to flood survivors within its borders.

"Due to the extreme magnitude of this disaster, we must try to focus on individual needs amid the great loss of life and suffering," said Major David Dalberg, national disaster services director for the Salvation Army.

The annual bazaar and luncheon sponsored by the Community United Methodist Church will take place tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The popular hot chicken salad lunches will be served for $7 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The sale of crafts, Christmas items and home made baked goods will take place from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

For more information call 941-0736. The church is located at Olive and Bibbins in Romulus, across the street from the Romulus Police Headquarters.

An ecumenical Thanksgiving Eve service will be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 25 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church on West Columbia in Belleville.

The Rev. John Grenfell III of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville will be the speaker of the evening.

Other churches slated to take part include: Denton Faith, Belleville United Presbyterian and Trinity Episcopal Church.

Cans of food will be collected and donated to the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Moms Offer Moms Support, a group of mothers of infants to pre-school age children, are meeting from 10 a.m. to noon the first Saturday of each month at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

The cost for child care is $4 for the first child in a family and $1 for each additional child.

For more information call 734-697-9288.

Father Richard McCormick, a moral theologian specializing in medical ethics, will speak at St. John Neumann Parish of Canton at 4 p.m. Sunday.

His topic will be "Physician-Assisted Suicide: Compassion or Collapse."

The session is part of the current University of Notre Dame-Hesburgh Lecture Series on key social and spiritual issues of the day.

Religious youth more likely to lead healthier lives today

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Michigan teen-agers (and others across the U.S.) who attend religious services and believe that religion is important are more likely to lead healthier lives than those who ignore such practices.

That opinion was developed by University of Michigan researchers after questioning 5,000 high school seniors about their religious participation and their high risk behaviors.

"Religious youth are less likely to engage in behaviors that compromise their health and are more likely to behave in ways that enhance their health," revealed John M. Wallace, U-M assistant professor of social work.

Highly religious teens -- about one third of those questioned -- are less likely to drink and drive, use tobacco or marijuana, carry a weapon or get into fights, Wallace said.

These teens also are more likely to wear seatbelts, eat a healthy diet, exercise regularly and get adequate sleep.

Wallace expressed surprise that so little research has gone into the religion-health issues.

"The fact that churches, synagogues and mosques have regular access to adolescents, their families and their peers, suggests that religious institutions are a potentially important, albeit often ignored, ally in the nation's efforts to promote the health of today's youth and tomorrow's adults.

School reunions marked

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Approximately 250 Romulus classmates attended a reunion on Oct. 3 of Romulus High School classes 1930-49 at the Romulus Progressive Hall. Lawrence Pink (class of 1931), Mildred Niebauer (class of 1932) and Carrie Betzold (class of 1934) were among the oldest to attend.

The teachers included: Mrs. Melba Herzog, Mrs. Stella Bun-nell, Clarence Schantz (all in their early 90's) as well as Mrs. Helen Tobacco and Ger-ald Nault were honored guests.

The group began meeting back in 1968 as the "Fabulous Forties" and at the following 5-year-reunion (1973) the classes of 1920-30 were invited to join.

Three hundred and 50 persons attended that reunion.

Classmates from many states and Baja, Mexico at-tended this year's reunion and announced plans to return on Oct. 4, 2003.

William Demmer

William J. Demmer of Jack Demmer Ford Inc. of Wayne has been named secretary treasurer of the Detroit Auto Dealers Association for the 1998-99 year.

The DADA represents nearly 250 new car and truck dealers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The association supports its membership through legisla-tive and industry representa-tion and educational programs, as well as communi-cations and community rela-tions activities.

Navy Fireman Adam E. Moran, son of John and Mary Moran of Wayne, recently com-pleted a six month deployment aboard the missile cruiser USS Cowpens.

Moran and 300 other sailors conducted maritime interception operations in the Arabian Gulf, enforcing U.N. sanctions levied against Iraq after the 1991 Gulf War.

The crew also provided rapid response to a civilian merchant ship's distress call for a heart attack victim.

The 1991 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School joined the U.S. Navy in December 1996.

The Rev. Wendell Anthony was unopposed in his bid for a fourth term as president of the Detroit Branch of the NAACP. Anthony was first elected in 1993.

"I am pleased that we did not have to expend the energy and could save the branch much needed resources ($10,000)," Anthony said follow-ing his election.

Anthony urged the member-ship to focus on the Michigan prison system, where "too many of our sons and daugh-ters, fathers and husbands are caught in a prison industrial complex that does not judge persons on their individu-ality."

Election results not kind to GOP hopefuls

Last week's General Election produced a number of major surprises, nationally and locally. At the top, Republicans did not benefit from the Monica and Bill opera. Instead, they lost five congressional seats, making their slim majority in Congress even slimmer and dashing all hopes to impeach President Clinton.

Equally surprising nationally was the gubernatorial race in Minnesota, where a magic name in the land of 10,000 Lakes, Humphrey, was defeated, not by his Republican opponent, but by a third party. Third party candidate Jesse Ventura, former World Wrestling Federation wrestler with the nickname "The Body," is now governor. Ventura, an assistant high school football coach, when asked what's his agenda to make Minnesota better, laughingly said that he doesn't know what his game plan is to defeat his arch-rival high school team Friday night, let alone have a plan to better the entire state. At least the wrestler-turned-politician appears to be honest.

Locally, the Republicans also took a beating. Melissa McLaughlin, Canton trustee running to replace Bruce Patterson as one of only two Republican commissioners on the Wayne board, was surprisingly defeated by upstart Wayne resident John Sullivan. Sullivan is the same guy that defeated three hard-charging opponents in the primary without even mustering a campaign. His campaign for the general election, however, was very public and very effective as he whipped McLaughlin by a wide 56 percent to 44 margin.

Two of the GOP's brightest stars were handed scares, although they are still in business. State Senator Loren Bennett, expected to win handily, squeaked by Wayne Mayor Kenneth Warfield by 2.5 percentage points. State Representative-elect Bruce Patterson, who was a virtual shoo-in representing a mostly Republican district, only won by a six percent margin over an opponent who made very little effort to campaign.

On the flipside, 34th District Court Candidate Norman Kohlstrand was heavily supported by the UAW and NAACP, but was thrashed by a 2-1 margin. Winner, Brian Oakley, a Republican who had to overcome a possible conflict of interest because his father is mayor of Romulus, was clearly the nonpartisan choice in this race.

Despite claims to the contrary, this election perpetuates the reality the UAW and Ed McNamara continue to rule the roost in Western Wayne County. We keep hearing that all these big, beautiful new homes in Canton, Van Buren and the like bring conservative Republicans as occupants. For the last three years I have heard that Rivers, DeHart, and other Democrats are vulnerable targets that are sure to lose to their Republican counterparts because the area is more elephant than donkey.

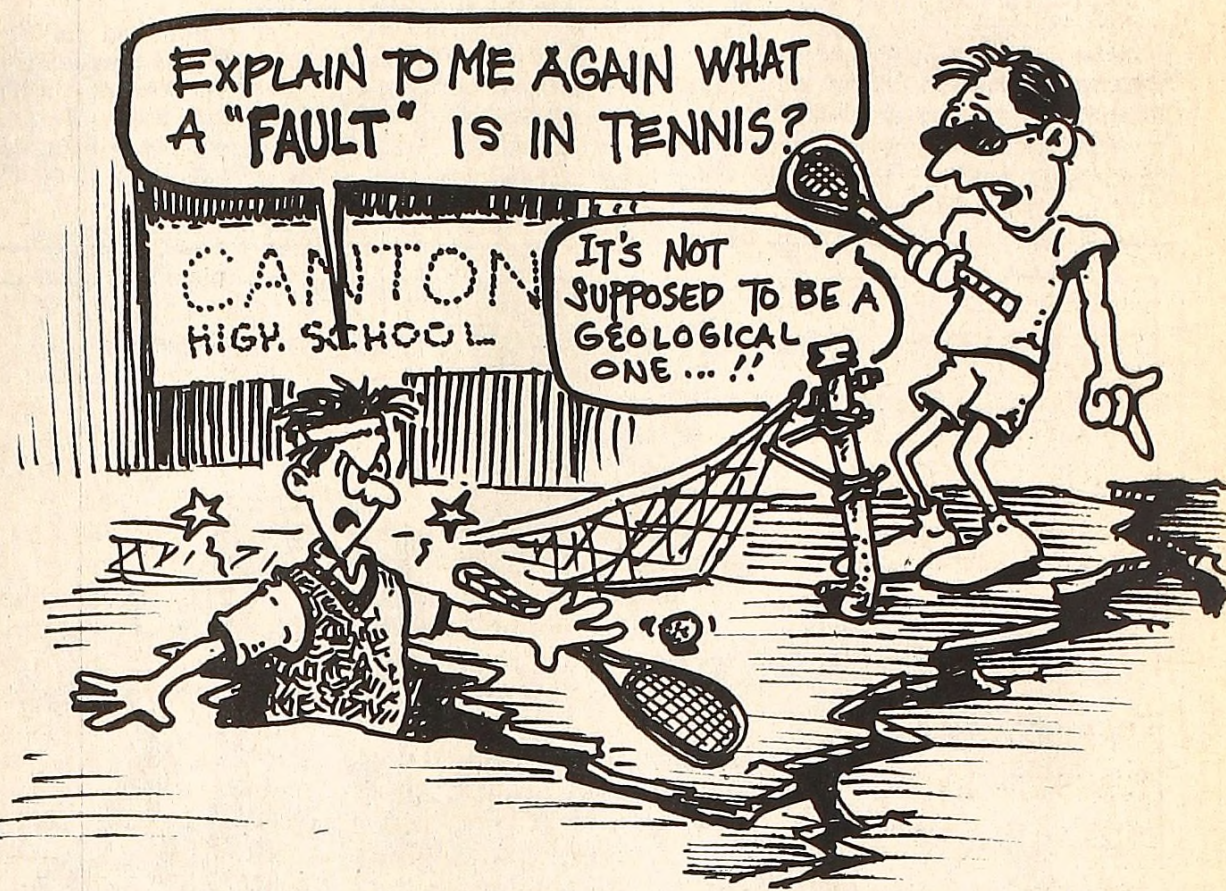

Each election proves otherwise. The UAW has an ability to get members out to vote. I have not seen better. And nice guy McNamara is everyone's grandfather. Anyone who is anybody owes the man a favor. Like the Godfather, he is able to manipulate the favors into campaign contributions and votes for his slate of candidates. No way the Republicans in Western Wayne can touch this type of organization.

On the other hand, maybe they could recruit Hulk Hogan. I understand his political acumen is on the same level as Jess "The Body's."

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Lowell Boileau preserves Detroit

Puffs of golden smoke rise from Hudson's on the homepage of talented Detroit artist Lowell Boileau's fantastic website, "The Ruins of Detroit."

Boileau's camera perfectly captured the midafternoon sunlight brightening the innards of Detroit's most graceful store as dynamite blew it apart; and if you have an Internet connection, you can see this picture located at <http://bhere.com/ruins/home.htm>.

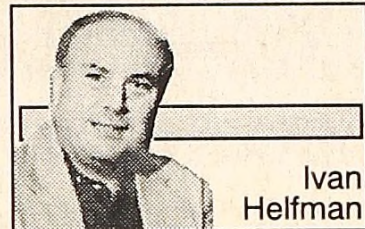

You can see also dozens of pictures of abandoned and gutted buildings standing in this once-great city turned to sad memories.

While most of us have either turned their backs on Detroit or, in the case of certain Wayne County politicians, Detroit educators, and government employees, sought to profit off its misery, Boileau celebrates what remains of the city's former grandeur.

To Boileau, Detroit's ruins can be compared to Rome or Athens's ruins, which "tourists behold... with awe and wonder." In contrast, Detroit's "vast and history laden ruin site passes unnoticed, even despised, into oblivion."

To bring awareness to Detroit, Boileau assembled a collection of haunting pictures of Detroit to guide visitors "on a tour through the fabulous and vanishing ruins of [his] beloved Detroit."

Thanks to the interactive nature of the 'Net, you can begin your tour anywhere. I started with a picture of the collapsing Ransom Gillis House, a rambling red

Ivan Helfman

Romanesque house with a shingled conical tower still pointing skyward. This house was built in the 19th Century on the corner of Alfred and John R. According to Boileau, "Detroit's upper class built sumptuous residences on the outskirts of the city which today lay deep within the urban sprawl. These ruins may be seen today in the Brush Park area and along Trumbull Avenue north of Grand River Avenue."

From the crumbling 19th Century homes, I browsed over to Detroit's industrial ruins. Most prominent was "The Factory That Changed the World," the remains of Henry Ford's Model T Automobile Plant on Piquette Street in Highland Park, which is still partially used as a warehouse.

Built in 1909, it once produced 1000 "Tin Lizzies" a day. It was the home of the moving assembly line. According to Boileau, "the world beat a path to its door fueling the second industrial revolution and catapulting Detroit to wealth and fame. . . . It ceased production in the 1970's. It has suffered greatly from neglect and faces an uncertain future."

The site also includes sections on downtown ruins and neighborhood ruins.

A work of art, the site works on an emotional level. It startles the visitor with a sense of Detroit's former beauty.

It also has a few purposes: to encourage the preservation of Detroit's remaining treasures; to stimulate interest in the city; and to explain how the ruins occurred.

Boileau blames the "dispersal of the population of Detroit in the years following World War II [which] triggered a chain of downward spiraling dominoes. Less people of less means remained. Less taxes collected resulted in less services and a diminished quality of life and security."

"Neighborhood libraries closed. Fire stations and schools were consolidated, then closed. Small businesses failed and none took their place. Roads and walkways fell into disrepair. More people moved away and a new line of dominoes began to tumble."

He links the destruction to an event, the city's sale of its "mass transit system of interlinked street railway cars [that] was effected in the 1950's when the remaining cars were sold to Mexico City."

Whatever caused the death of a great city, it's great that Boileau's pictures captured the glory of its ghost.

If you're not already on the 'Net, "The Ruins of Detroit" is reason enough to go online.

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN BY PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

It's Not Just "E.T." Who Needs To Phone Home

Dear Mr. Ross: My wife is due to have triplets in two months. This is our first pregnancy and it's a high risk one. She needs to be on total bed rest, which she's taking like a real trooper. We have no family in the area, so before I leave for work each day I set her up with everything we anticipate she will need. My job is in direct sales, where I call on the clients.

I like to check in with my wife as much as possible and do so at each available pay phone. If I had a cellular phone though, she'd be able to call me if there was an emergency. Could you pay for service just until the triplets arrive? We can't afford any extras whatsoever with my wife not working and three babies on the way. Do you see my problem?

Mr. J. A. ... Mining Journal, Marquette, MI

Dear Mr. A.: I have to chuckle if you think you're going to be emergency-free after the triplets arrive. That's when the true chaos is going to begin. Face it, you're a fellow who is going to need cellular service for the next 18 years, if not more. Either that, or a sit down desk job.

I've made arrangements with Mary Tavernini of CellularOne in Marquette. She will see to it that you are properly equipped and send me the bill each month. Best wishes for your wife's safe labor and delivery of triplets—it's going to be a day unlike any other.

Dear Sir: On Senior Citizen's Day at our County Fair, I was carrying our group's money. Shortly after we arrived, I lost all of it, in or near the ladies' rest room across from the Purple Cow stand. I had hoped someone would practice the Golden Rule, so I hurried to the Lost and Found. Not there—the money was never returned.

I hope the person who kept the money was just one "bad apple" and this does not reflect that the country is less honest than when I was a child. Someone said to me shortly after, "What can you expect from a country where our politicians lie to us and most people say it is no big deal?" Is our country losing its moral compass? Mrs. A. C. ... The Herald, Everett, WA

Dear Mrs. C.: I'm inclined to say, "No." Morally, we are still a nation of good, law abiding citizens. What happens is while sitting in the bushel basket, one bad apple is allowed to spoil the good ones. Eventually you find the good apples have signs of decay, too. It's the same way with people who compromise their sense of integrity, respect and honor. They corrupt the good ones.

However, I find that things have a way of balancing—a good act negating a bad one. My forthcoming modest check should balance the scales so that next year the whole group can really whoop it up at the County Fair.

Dear Mr. Ross: Ever since I graduated from college a year ago, I've sent out hundreds of resumes for an Administrative Assistant position. Thus far I haven't had much success in landing a full-time job. I've been busting the pavement going to interview after interview and still no luck. My request is for your assistance in paying my student loans off in full.

Mr. S. T. ... Commercial Appeal, Memphis, TN

Dear Mr. T.: I know that you're sincere in your request, so I'll turn you down gently. You owe $10,000 in student loans—that is your debt. It's the same with credit card debt—you created it, now you pay it. I do feel bad that you haven't landed the job you want after one year of pursuit.

Perhaps it is time to settle for something else. And settling usually means welcoming the harsh reality of doing what you must in order to pay the bills.

Paper should get back to grammar basics

To the Editor:

I am writing to call your attention to four errors on the front page of your November 1, 1998 issue of Eyewitness. I am not an English Major, however, one does not need a degree in English to spot these errors, so there may be others.

The first error is in the 'Sound Off' column regarding the endorsement of Ken Warfield. The author indicated Mr. Warfield does things "write". The verb write, means to inscribe or put down on paper. The correct verb should have been right, which means correct. I have not decided if I am going to vote for Mr. Warfield, however if this is the educational level of his supporters, I think my vote will go to his opponent.

The next two errors were in the column regarding the lost toddler. In paragraph three, the author stated the child "communicated either his full name or address." If he did in fact communicate his name, why did it take so long to identify him? I feel the author meant to say he did not communicated either his name or address. In the same article in paragraph ten, the author stated "When the officers returned the toddler to the baby-sitter; they left a message for her to call them upon her return." If the child was returned to the baby-sitter why would a message need to be left?

I think the author meant to say the police left a message with the baby-sitter for the mother to call upon her return.

The final error is in the article on Fieger. In paragraph three, the author starts the paragraph with a preposition (and). In my eighth grade English Class, I was taught, you never start a sentence with a preposition.

The errors I have pointed out may seem trivial in the big scheme of life, however your paper is read by many people. I think it would be interesting to see just how low our standards have come, that most readers would not even note the errors. Maybe an article on getting back to basics in education would be in order.

Judith A. Brown

The power of mass mind is unbelievable

To the Editor:

Put your thinking caps on. We are all part of the Great Creator. God is all there is. God wants to help us: perhaps we have to help Him in the process of evolving.

The Power of Mass Mind/Energy. It's phenomenal. What a good number of us believe comes to be. If we believe in an end to the world, it just may come soon. Get rid of that train of thought now!!! Media - Stop immediately - any ideas about Armageddon or an end to the earth or else you may be the cause of our own destruction!

The Power of Mass Mind is Unbelievable!

Computers - Year 2000. All matter is alive and contains intelligence. Our machinery functions. Not just because of how they are manufactured. The intelligence within the matter runs our equipment. Suggestion: We are in a Big Dilemma worrying about the year 2000. Talk to your computers! Out Loud. Teach them 2000 comes after 1999. Plead with them. Tell them what could happen to all of known civilization. My technician can't believe the "luck" I have had with my ten-year old copy machine. I constantly talk to and praise this copier I named "Bobbie." I talk to everything in my house. It may sound silly...but please know All Matter Contains Intelligence. I can tell you of other experiences I have had.

All matter is alive and contains Intelligence.

Our weather. Peoples of the earth are rebelling against each other. The forces of Nature are also rebelling, perhaps at us. Maybe these forces are responding to mass belief? These forces (rain, hail, snow, wind, sun, hurricanes, tornadoes, fire earthquakes, volcanoes) depend on our forecasters. Weather seemed to "obey" our forecasters years ago more accurately. However, today with cable and satellite TV connections, radio stations from near and far, and the vast number of weathermen, many different weather predications from around the world can be heard in each and every location. These forces of nature are so confused and don't know who to obey anymore and are, therefore, randomly acting. Suggestion: All forecasters on earth try the experiment of "predicting" beautiful weather all over the earth for one week. Predict, e.g., 70 degrees Fahrenheit, partly sunny, partly cloudy days. Don't confuse the weather with Centigrade, etc. Be consistent. Then all try a rainy day, etc.

Weather obeys us.

Search for God. The majority of peoples are searching for God. Perhaps all matter is, too. Matter/Nature are suffering at our hands. Suggestion: Install wiring throughout our lands, such as telephone wiring. Put holes in the wiring and pipe through music filled with Love of God, Love of Mankind, and Love of all Creation. The volume can be turned down, but its vibrations will fill our atmosphere.

All matter is searching for God. Foods and Medicines. Foods and medicines may be rebelling against us (perhaps through fear; perhaps through learned intelligence from the place of origin). Praise every morsel of food; praise every medication. Each time before you put a medicine into your body, repeat out loud - "This little pill is a miracle from God-I have been taking these pills/medicine for a long time and never get any side effects whatsoever." Even if you never took this medicine before, I want you to repeat the last sentence. That particular piece of matter (pill or liquid) doesn't know you've never taken it before.

Foods and Medicines contain Intelligence.

Be objective and open to new ideas. Ponder my thoughts and discuss them with others. God is all there is. God is all there should be on this earth.

We try to separate church and state, but we can never do so. Because we are all part of Father God. When the almighty wishes to speak through us...he does...his words can be found in many places on this earth. He chooses the weak to shame the strong, remember that. I happen to be the weakest of the weak. I've spent my life praying to an instrument of his. He gives wisdom to those he chooses who seek him in all corners of their lives. We can never separate ourselves from the good God, creator of all. Father God, open the minds of the readers of this letter and...

May we bring prayer and praise to you, Father Creator - everywhere in all of creation!

I, Diane-Lynn Broda, a Notary Public of the State of New Jersey, whose commission expires June 8, 2002, upon my oath, state the contents of this letter were entirely written by me and are ideas that have revealed themselves to me though much serious thought and through Much, Much, Much Prayer to the Creator God.

Van Buren cops come through again

To the Editor:

I am writing to let this community know what a great job (again) that the Van Buren Police and Romulus Police did on Sunday October 4th at the 16th Annual Belleville-Romulus Cropwalk. Approximately 400 volunteers walked that day from Romulus to Belleville to raise money for the hungry in our communities and throughout the world. The support, protection, and guidance we received from these two departments was, as usual, excellent.

There were officers following all the walkers, situated at major intersections, cruising the walk route (about 6.2 miles), escorting on bicycles and checking constantly on the health and safety of the walkers. We have come to expect and take for granted how special our police officers are. When an unusual event like the Cropwalk comes along we're once again reminded how blessed we are. We really appreciate the men and women who protect and serve us.

Student needs Michigan fliers, posters for class project

To the Editor:

I am a fifth grader at Hart-Ransom School in Modesto, California. I have adopted your state as a class project. I will be doing a report and making a display about Michigan. In May, my class will be having a "State Fair". I will display and show everything I have learned about your state to my whole school.

Buffalo Soldier display to open

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

New displays on the Buffalo Soldier (1866-1912) will open Saturday at the Charles H. Wright Museum of African American History in Detroit. The exhibits will leave in January for stops across the U.S. and end in Chicago in July 2-Aug. 20, 2000.

African American soldiers in unprecedented numbers served in the U.S. Army on the Western Frontier during the late 19th century.

As members of the 9th and 10th Cavalry and the 24th and 25th Infantry Regiments were the first African Americans in our nation's history to serve in the regular peacetime army.

The first known Buffalo Soldiers served between July 1866 and April 1867, six regiments of black soldiers...many who were veterans of the U.S. Colored Troops from the Civil War.

They were organized as the 9th and 10th Cavalry and consisted of approximately 1,000 men each. Their duties were not limited to fighting...as they built and rebuilt many army posts, strung miles of telegraph wire, parolled the U.S. Mexican border, escorted settlers, cattle herds and railroad crews.

The Buffalo soldiers also reportedly served in the the Spanish American War and the Philippine Insurrection.

Before these regiments were organized, blacks were allowed to serve in the army only in wartime.

According to legend, the soldiers of the 9th and 10th Cavalry Regiments were first called "Buffalo Soliders" by Native Americans, because their tight, curly hair and their fighting spirit reminded the Indian of the buffalo.

The soldiers accepted the name as a term of respect and honor. The name is still applied today to U.S. Army units that are linear descendants of the original buffalo soldiers.

Some of the Buffalo Soldiers reportedly served with Teddy Roosevelt and charged up San Juan Hill in the Spanish American War.

Anthony Powell checked with such soldiers years ago and found they served with pride of uniform, of camaraderie, brotherhood and friendship.

Powell has since dedicated his life to preserving the collective memory of the Buffalo Soldiers.

His collection is probably the largest privately held collection dedicated to African American soldiers in the country. Five etchings by Frederick Remington also are in the collection.

For more information on the display call 313-494-5800.

Thanksgiving dinner planned

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus seniors are being invited to a special 1 p.m. Thanksgiving dinner on Nov. 20 at the Romulus Senior Citizen Center.

The cost is $7.50 per person and will include the traditional turkey dinner catered by Dee Buk.

Center director Linda Norman said those attending the luncheon can bring a friend along if they wish.

Linda Norman, Romulus Senior Citizen Center director, also revealed that a poll is being taken to learn if seniors are interested in taking computer classes.

"We'd like to take the fear out of this electronic monster," Norman said, "so if you are interested in such classes please let us know."

Hair cuts at the Romulus Senior Center will now be available at 10:30 a.m. the second Monday of each month, instead of 1 p.m. Note the time change on your calendar if you are interested.

Senior Citizens Legal Aid programs will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 3 at the Sumpter Township Senior Center, 23501 Sumpter road in Belleville.

The services are offered to Wayne County residents, who are at least 60 years of age and need civil matters settled (not criminal).

No appointments are necessary.

The September Days Senior Center, 46425 Tyler road in Belleville is offering the following programs: clay sculpting at 9:30 a.m. each Thursday, beginners line dancing at 11:15 a.m. each Thursday, yoga exercising at 10 a.m. on Fridays and painting classes at 1 p.m. on Fridays.

Shopping trips are slated at 12 Oaks Mall on Nov. 13 and Meijer's Store on Nov. 20.

Monday programs will include Copy Cats crafts at 9 a.m., line dancing at 10 a.m. and ceramics at 1 p.m.

Tuesday programs include sewing programs at 6 p.m.

Wednesday programs include quilting at 9 a.m., variety club at 9:30 a.m. A volunteer sewing group will meet at 1 p.m. Nov. 25.

The September Days Senior Center will be closed Nov 26 and 27 for Thanksgiving.

The Royal Brass Quintet will perform at 11 a.m. Nov. 21 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. The free program is being hosted by the Belleville Parks and Recreation Committee. Music and refreshments will be provided by the Belleville Area Council for the Arts.

Senior Living in Western Wayne

M I C H I G A N C O M M U N I T Y N E W S P A P E R S

So the 1998 elections are over...what comes next?

Okay the elections are over for the year.

Senior citizens as usual were among the most prominent group at the polls last week and had a great influence on the various outcomes across Wayne County and the rest of the U.S.

Who are the political kings now and what does the voter need to be aware of as the end of the century approaches.

County Executive Ed McNamara – the county's top senior citizen - is probably at the peak of his political power. He has only two opposition party members to contend with on the commission and two of his most vocal challengers are no longer in the commission chambers (as of Jan. 1, 1999 that is).

Missing will be the boisterous Commissioners Republican Bruce Patterson and Democrat William J. O'Neill.

On the state level, McNamara will have strong ties with State Rep-elect Irma Clark (his former press secretary) and Attorney General-elect Jennifer Granholm – his hand-picked A-G choice.

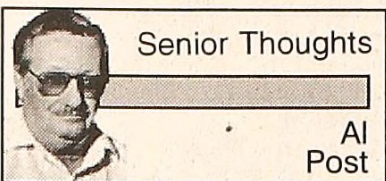

Except for some backfire from planes passing overhead going to and coming from Detroit Metro Airport, McNamara doesn't expect much noise from the opposition.

Plus redistricting of Michigan is just around the corner in the year 2002 ...

Area residents will hope that Commissioner-elect John Sullivan can keep a pledge and get the commission out to Western Wayne County for some meaningful meetings.

Gov. John Engler, also has to be considered a king-pin, since his Republican party now controls the governor's mansion,

Senior Thoughts
Al Post

the Michigan House, Senate and the state Supreme Court.

On top of that he could be the second half of a Bush-Engler ticket for the GOP in the year 2000, since the Republicans are looking to their top governors rather than congress persons for their future leadership.

Plus redistricting of Michigan is just around the corner in the year 2002 – with most of the pending changes to aid GOP causes.

Senior citizens are quick to point out that generally Americans seem to have forgotten their servicemen and women's actions in the past century.

They feel disheartened that activities conducted and parades offered draw limited on-lookers today.

Many events attract usually only immediate family members of proud veterans and some concerned politicians.

The only public events that seem to draw any attention from citizens and the media are the creation of long over due monuments for those who served or lost their lives in the Korean and Vietnam wars.

They are hoping that “1999 – the Century's Year of Reflection” will revive some of that lost spirit for our late fighting men and women.

Other seniors seem to be chuckling at the current status of the National Basketball Association and its negotiations with team owners.

This was suppose to be the year when we wondered if superstar Michael Jordan would retire and just sell TV hotdogs and other high market items.

But instead it is the year we are wondering if any basketball players will be donning their high priced footwear in public.

Some are asking “Haven't these guys learned anything from the baseball strike?”

If they have the same attendance problems after professional basketball resumes, will the Chicago Bulls pull an inter-sport trade sending Jackson to baseball's St. Louis Cardinals for power player Mark McGwire?

Oops...I forgot white men can't jump. Cancel that trade possibility.

Senior singles to meet

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A special turkey dinner for Canton Senior Singles is slated to be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 13 – which is a change of date.

A reservation is needed by calling Bob Nichols at 416-1995 or Don Hosman at 397-1684.

Interested in having your family history being placed on video tape?

Jim Rawlinson of Rawlinson Photography in Plymouth is offering free tapings from 2 to 3 p.m. each Thursday by appointment only.

Rawlinson will ask questions about the impact of technology on your life, any experiences connected with World War II, Korean or Vietnam, and any special messages you would like to pass on to future generations.

The Canton Senior Program will provide the tapes for you to keep. If interested call 397-5444.

The Senior Alliance is still looking for chore workers, who would be willing to remove snow and other chores for senior citizens.

Such workers will be paid.

For more information call the Senior Alliance at 313-722-2830.

Senior citizen swim programs are being offered in the Summit's Aquatic Area.

Classes include: Seniorcize, Nifty 50's, Senior River Walking, Arthritis Foundation Aquatic Program and the open Senior Swim.

Registration for the classes is at the front desk of the Summit. For more information call 397-5110.

Only one Michigan health plan made the grade in Newsweek's national survey.

HAP stands alone in Michigan: The only health plan to be ranked A, overall, in Newsweek magazine's third annual survey of health plans. And, HAP finished in the top 10% nationally. Newsweek surveyed 200 plans, examining how well they dealt with preventive care; how well they managed acute and chronic conditions; their choice and quality of doctors and hospitals. In all these categories, HAP scored well. It's because we emphasize personalized care from respected physicians and staff, along with prevention, and member education. So, for a health care plan you can feel good about, contact HAP at 313-872-8100 or visit www.hapcorp.org.

Sullivan's slim win upheld

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A heavy straight Democratic ticket balloting in Romulus helped John Sullivan of Wayne, defeat GOP candidate Melissa McLaughlin last week by a scant 47 votes.

There has been no call by McLaughlin for a recount in the tight election returns.

Romulus election officials recorded that 2,082 Democrats and 560 Republicans voted the straight party ticket last Tuesday, giving Sullivan a major boost in district balloting.

Many election observers called Sullivan's win an upset, since they felt that McLaughlin would have held on to much of Bruce Patterson's support for the western Wayne County Commissioner's seat.

Patterson nixed seeking his commission seat again this year and opted instead to seek a state representative seat, which he ultimately won.

Romulus totals showed Sullivan pulled 3,673 in the city compared to 1,505 for McLaughlin.

But the straight party ballot-

I always thought it would be close ... like a 1,000 vote difference ... but nothing like the 47 votes it turned out to be.

- John McLaughlin

ing in Romulus and several other communities, almost cost Sen. Loren Bennett (R-Canton) a seat in the state's legislature.

Bennett was able to hold on to the district seat, despite falling behind Wayne Mayor Kenneth Warfield in Romulus, 3,512-2,017.

The voting had ballot watchers state "the Reagan Revolution is over!" What they were referring to is that Reagan was able to invade labor voting areas in the '80s, but labor (at least in Wayne County) has strongly returned to the Democratic fold nationally.

The other observation that was buzzed about the election elite is "I guess maybe RECAP

(the citizens' power group opposed to the deepwell project in Romulus) failed to garner much support for either Bennett or Judge Claudia House Morcom (who lost her bid for re-election).

Morcom's decisions in the city's favor on the deepwell issue, severely stymied any deepwell action in Romulus in the past few years. Her decisions were warmly embraced by RECAP members - but her election effort apparently was overlooked by those same members.

Twenty incumbents and two challengers battled it out for the Circuit Court benches this year. Morcom and one challenger lost out in that effort.

She proved to be the only Third Circuit Judge incumbent to lose last week.

Sullivan disclaimed the straight party line as the main reason for his victory.

"I always thought it would be close....like a 1,000 vote difference....but nothing like the 47 votes it turned out to be," Sullivan said a day after the election.

He like McLaughlin didn't

know the results of the tight election count until the absentee ballots were listed for the city of Belleville. Those votes gave him the slim victory and McLaughlin a crushing defeat.

The young Wayne lawyer declared "I just can't wait to get into my commissioner's office in Detroit and begin working on road improvements and problems relating to Detroit Metro Airport noise."

He promises to send district residents an open letter prior to his taking office..."so they will be fully aware of how to contact me in the next two years."

Flyers' JV squad also in playoffs

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Following the pattern set by the Romulus Eagles Saturday, the young Romulus Flyers Junior Varsity also won entrance into post-season play by defeating a tough River Rouge Panther team, 39-29.

Thus Saturday at 2:30 p.m. the Flyers will challenge the Grosse Ile Junior Devils in a championship game at Melvindale High School.

The game will be a rematch of the Flyers-Panther 1992 Championship game in which the Devils topped the Flyers in overtime, 6-0. This weekend, the Flyers will attempt to return the favor by dumping the Devils in regular time.

The Flyers got off to a quick start as Robert Anderson took the opening kick-off and rushed 70 yards for the Flyers first touchdown of the day.

Later in the first half James Kendrick ripped off a 53 yard touchdown run to give the Flyers a 20-0 lead and later faked a punt and slipped around the right end for another 69-yard run hiking the score to 20-0.

After the Panthers scored their lone first half touchdown, Kendrick grabbed a pitch to the left side and scooted for a 34-yard touchdown run, making a half time score of 26-7.

At half time Coach John Wester reminded his young team that 26 points might not be enough to carry the Flyers to victory.

Wester's assessment began to come true, as the Panthers scored two points on a safety and another seven on a touchdown, bringing the score closer, 26-15.

The Flyers' star runner Kendrick then ran 29 yards for another a touchdown, but the Panthers also unleashed a strong passing game, tightening the score to 33-22.

But Kendrick then ran for his fifth touchdown making the score, 39-22. The Panthers then scored one last touchdown.

Wester said the Flyer defense was led by Kendrick, Anderson, Georjon Garland, Matt Carr and Philip Roscoe.

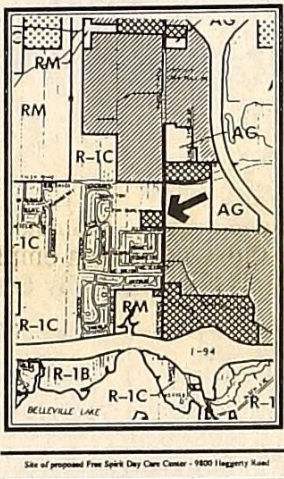

Kendrick was credited with nine solo tackles and Garland had six solos and 12 assists.

The next day the Romulus Flyers Cheerleading Freshmen and JV squads took seventh place (out of 12), but the Varsity squad failed to finish in the top 10 at the annual Downriver Junior Football Cheerleading Competition.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN BOARD OF ZONING APPEALS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Charter Township of Van Buren Board of Zoning Appeals will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, December 8, 1998 at 7:00 p.m., in the Board of Trustees Room, 46425 Tyler Road, Charter Township of Van Buren, County of Wayne, Michigan, 48111.

This Public Hearing relates to parcel number V-125-83-058-99-0011-000, or more commonly known at 10145 Belleville Road.

The subject site is located within the Charter Township of Van Buren C (Local Business) Zoning District. The applicant proposes to establish a real estate sales and brokerage office use, make various site improvements, enlarge or structurally alter the existing principal building, and improve two (2) existing accessory buildings. Office uses are permitted as of right in a C District; no special use approval is required (Section 11.02.d). The existing structures, however, which are proposed to be enlarged, altered, or improved, are nonconforming in terms of location. In addition, the proposed landscaped buffer strip would be narrower than required.

Approval of this application as submitted, therefore, will require the following variances:

- 1) ARTICLE IV, GENERAL PROVISIONS, Section 4.40.3.c.1.b, LANDSCAPING, Landscaping Design Standards, Required Landscaping Adjacent to Other Properties, for twenty (20) feet in width, to create a landscaped buffer strip five (5) feet in width, instead of the minimum required twenty-five (25) feet.
- 2) ARTICLE V, NONCONFORMING USES AND BUILDINGS, Section 5.04.B, MINOR NONCONFORMING USES OR STRUCTURES, Changing Nonconforming Uses, to permit a nonconforming structure to be changed when the change does not conform on the Zoning Ordinance for the district in which such structure is located.
- 3) ARTICLE V, NONCONFORMING USES AND BUILDINGS, Section 5.04.D.3, MINOR NONCONFORMING USES OR STRUCTURES, Enlarging a Minor Nonconforming Use, to permit minor nonconforming structures to be enlarged or structurally altered in conjunction with providing off-street parking or loading.

Written comments will be accepted at the Department of Developmental Services until 5:00 p.m. on the hearing date.

In the spirit of compliance with the American Disabilities Act, individuals with a disability should feel free to contact the Department of Developmental Services, at least seventy two (72) hours in advance of the meeting, if requesting accommodations.

Romulus, Russell crush Sturgis

It took an Eddie Woods' interception that the Romulus senior cornerback returned for a 67-yard touchdown to fire up the Eagles in the second quarter Saturday afternoon in their Region III Class BB playoff opener against visiting Sturgis.

Woods scored one of his team's four touchdowns in that pivotal second quarter which helped erase a 14-0 deficit and opened the gates to a 54-35 victory. The Romulus victory, the first-ever in a post-season playoff format, stretched the Eagles' winning string to an unprecedented 10 straight and qualified them to play for the regional championship.

The Region III championship will be decided at 7:30 p.m. on Friday against an equally formidable adversary, Haslett. Haslett also boasts a 10-0 record. The regional champ will advance to the state semifinals.

Romulus was slow-starting against Sturgis, which grabbed a 7-0 lead in the first period, added an early second quarter touchdown before Woods and record-setter, senior Freddie Russell got down to work.

Romulus coach Mark Woodson said that it was the first time this season that his team had to come-from-behind to win.

"When you're looking at a 14-0 score, you begin to wonder what's going on," said Woodson. "We have never been in that kind of position before, and believe me, I had some concerns."

"But these kids don't give up. They got the job done, and I am very proud at the way they came back and did it."

Russell rushed for a record-setting 365 yards in 25 attempts and finished up with an incredible six touchdowns.

The speedy 5-9, 182-pound running back scored on a 51 yard jaunt in the second quarter, then came back in the same quarter for a nine-yard TD run. He scored two more

Westland John Glenn ran up against a hard-nosed Brighton defense in their opening game of the Region III playoffs and came up short by a field goal. The loss sent the Rockets to the hangers until next year. But they did accomplish a few goals, like winning a Lakes Division title and finishing the season with a 8-2 record. Rockets come up short against Brighton, 17-14

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Holding an ace in senior running back Reggie Spearmon that had trumped eight of their 10 opponents this year, Westland John Glenn couldn't come up with a supporting hand on Saturday in the pre-regional game against Brighton and folded, 17-14, before a full house.

Consequently, Glenn fell to host, Brighton, 17-14, and was ousted by a defense-oriented Brighton team.

Brighton moves into the championship round where they will clash with Lake Orion to decide the Region II championship and which of the two will advance to the semifinal round of the state playoffs.

Spearmon, unstoppable most of the 1998 campaign, was held to 61 yards, the longest a 32-yarder, which set up the Rockets' only touchdown credited to the offense.

"We knew that they (Brighton) was a great defensive team," remarked Glenn coach Chuck Gordon after the game. "And they proved it to us."

Gordon said that Brighton was a well-coached team that should do well the rest of the way.

The Westlanders got on the scoreboard with 22 seconds left in the opening half when Spearmon managed to move the Rockets from mid-field to the 25 yard line. On the next play, quarterback Nick Hudson managed to airlift a pass that was deflected by two Brighton defenders before receiver Eric Jones grabbed the ball for the touchdown.

When Nick Paddock booted the extra point, the Rockets were back in the game, 10-7. Glenn actually took the lead thanks to a Brighton "gift".

Brighton was poised to add to its 10-7 lead midway in the third period and was sitting pretty on the Rockets' 35 when quarterback Erik Moss decided on an option that almost proved fatal for the team.

Downed lineman Ben Harris moved swiftly between the Brighton QB and the intended receiver and picked off the airborne ball. He raced 65 yards and made it across the Brighton goal line as a stunned Brighton offense looked on.

The momentum had apparently switched to the visitors. But not for long.

On the ensuing kickoff, Moss engineered a 76-yard drive that featured three pass completions that ate up more than four minutes of the clock. Fullback Dave Pearson then scored his second TD of the game, this one from two yards out to give Brighton the lead again, and for good.

The Bulldogs' defense again took control and dominated the rest of the game.

The hosts scored the first 10 points thanks to Pearson's six-yard jaunt early in the second quarter and Chris Niles 42-yard field goal.

One of the highlights of this exceptional defensive duel between two arch rivals - Glenn had ousted Brighton from the playoffs five years ago - was the punting game on both sides of the field.

Glenn's Dave Lewandowski had 10 punts for 367-yards or 36.7 yards per try.

Although he was held to 61 yards on 19 carries, Spearmon walked off the field with Glenn's one-season rushing record, which now stands at 1,672 yards. He also has the career record of 4,056 yards amassed during a three-year period on varsity.

Glenn finishes the 1998 campaign with an 8-2 record and the Western Lakes Division title.

Regional title Haslett stands in Eagles path

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

In Haslett, Romulus will probably be facing one of the more physical teams it will meet this year.

And coach Mark Woodson knows that the task before him, his staff and his team won't be an easy one.

"They're good," said Woodson, commenting upon the opponent who is blocking the Eagles' path to their first-ever appearance in a state semifinal football game.

"One of our coaches scouted them (Haslett) last week in their playoff opener, and his first reaction was that they are the biggest team we will play."

They have three excellent and speedy backs that can run.”
- Mark Woodson

Woodson also said that his defense will be seeing the T-Formation for the first time this year.

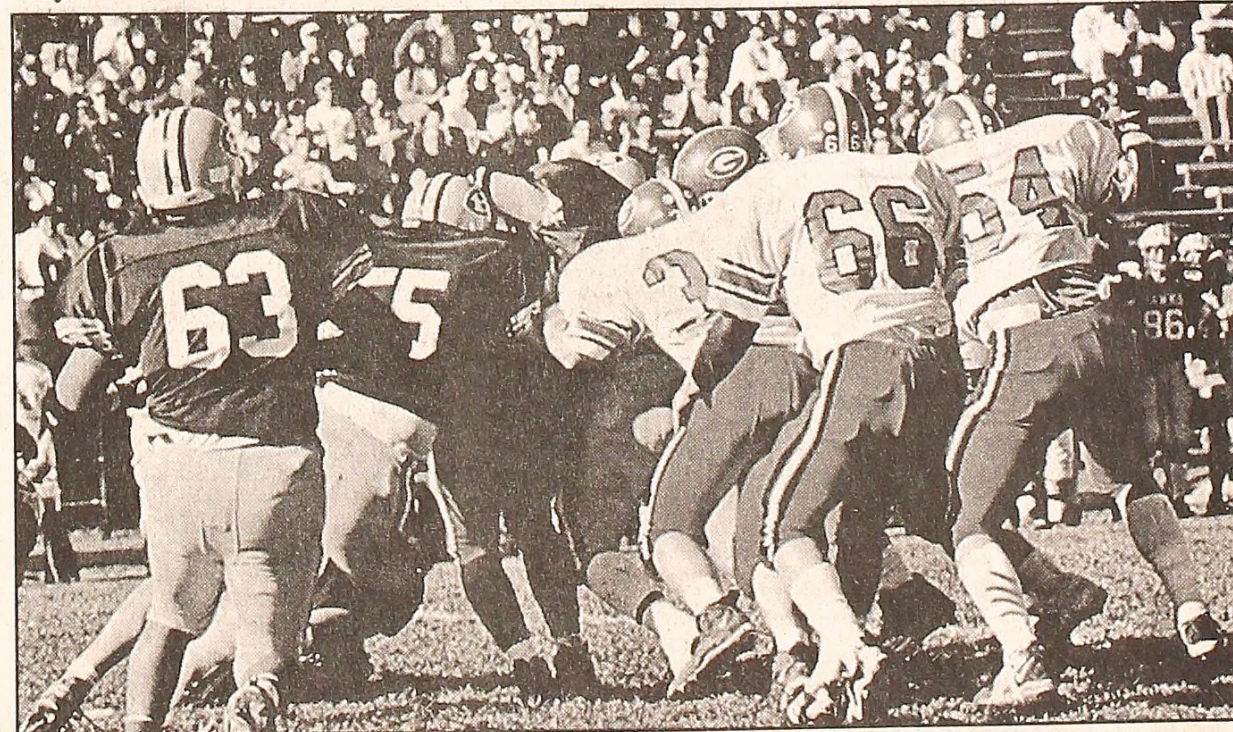

"They have three excellent and speedy backs that can run," Woodson pointed out. "We will need to adjust, and that is what we will be working on this week."

Haslett turned back a stubborn Middeville Thornapple

Kellogg, 23-12, to qualify for the regional championship. The Vikings also are 10-0 on the season and captured the 1998 Ingham County League championship.

In other regional championship matchups, Petoskey (9-1) squares off with Menominee (8-2) to determine the Region I title, while in Region II, it's Allegan vs. Grand Rapids Catholic Central, in a game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday in Allegan.

Over in Region IV, undefeated Trenton will take on Orchard Lake St. Mary for the title to determine which will advance to the state semifinals.

All-Area on its way

With two of the finest running backs in the area to select from, the 1998 Michigan Community Newspapers' All-Area Team could be one of the best since the days that Robichaud great Tyrone Wheatley was in the lineup. The MCN sports staff is finalizing the lineup, and if you have any favorite son you believe should be in an All-Area uniform, contact the Sports Desk at 734-729-4000. But, not Friday night, please. Glenn, Harrison dominate All-Conference selections

Westland John Glenn, the undisputed Lakes Division champ, and Farmington Hills Harrison, the owner of the Western and the over-all titles in the Western Lakes Conference football world, dominated the coaches' picks for the 1998 all-conference teams.

Coaches representing the 10-team conference selected their version of a "Dream Team" last week.

Glenn won the Lakes-Division title with a perfect 5-0 record. The division runnerup was Plymouth-Salem (3-2), followed by Farmington (3-2), Livonia Stevenson (2-3), Walled Lake Central (2-3) and North Farmington (0-5).

Harrison, which defeated Glenn for the overall conference championship, also posted an impeccable 5-0 record in the Western Division. The runnerup was Walled Lake Western (4-1), and, finishing in order, were Northville (2-3), Livonia Churchill (2-3), Plymouth-Canton (2-3) and Livonia Franklin (0-5).

Glenn's record-breaking running back Reggie Spearmon (senior 5-9, 185) is joined in the offensive backfield by Western's scoring duo of Dave Johnson (senior 5-9, 161) and Eric Sage (senior 5-6, 161) and drafted as the conference quarterback is Harrison standout Dave Pesci (senior 5-11, 170).

The all-conference, offensive line includes: center Mike Miscorommi (Farmington), interior linemen Ted Bowersox (Northville), Jeff Konfara (Walled Lake Western), Cliff Bell (John Glenn), and Brett Foster (Harrison).

Chose the all-conference tight end was Nick Caizza (Walled Lake Western), while the two wide receivers were honored - Ben Keetle (Northville) and Harrison's premier player Ricky Bryant.

On defense, the coaches selected the following lineup for their 1998 team:

The down linemen are: Charlie Hamblin (Salem), Bryan McGhee (Harrison), and Rob Fant (John Glenn).

Coaches named Glenn's Teon Price as a defensive end-outside linebacker, while Farmington's Brian Brinsden of Farmington was drafted as the other end-outstanding linebacker.

Jake Tharp, Glenn's rugged junior, Mike Hoad (Harrison) and Eric Peterson (Plymouth-Salem) are the linebackers.

The defensive backs are Andre Davis (Harrison), John Pettit (John Glenn) and Jason Sorge (Stevenson), while Joe Ghannam (Harrison) was honored as the all-conference specialist, punter-kicker.

The all-Western Division Team is as follows:

On Offense - center Jeff Scott (Northville), Interior Linemen - Jared Chapman

(Canton), Mike Gaura (Churchill), Tim Guntzville (Western), and Dario Otero (Harrison); the tight ends are Jan Riley (Canton), Adam Sexton (Franklin), while the wide receiver is Jason Berry (Franklin).

The backfield includes quarterback Chris Payton (Western), and running backs Matt Reed (Harrison), Jeff Job (Franklin) and Nick Stonerook (Canton).

The lineup for the Western Division Defense is as follows:

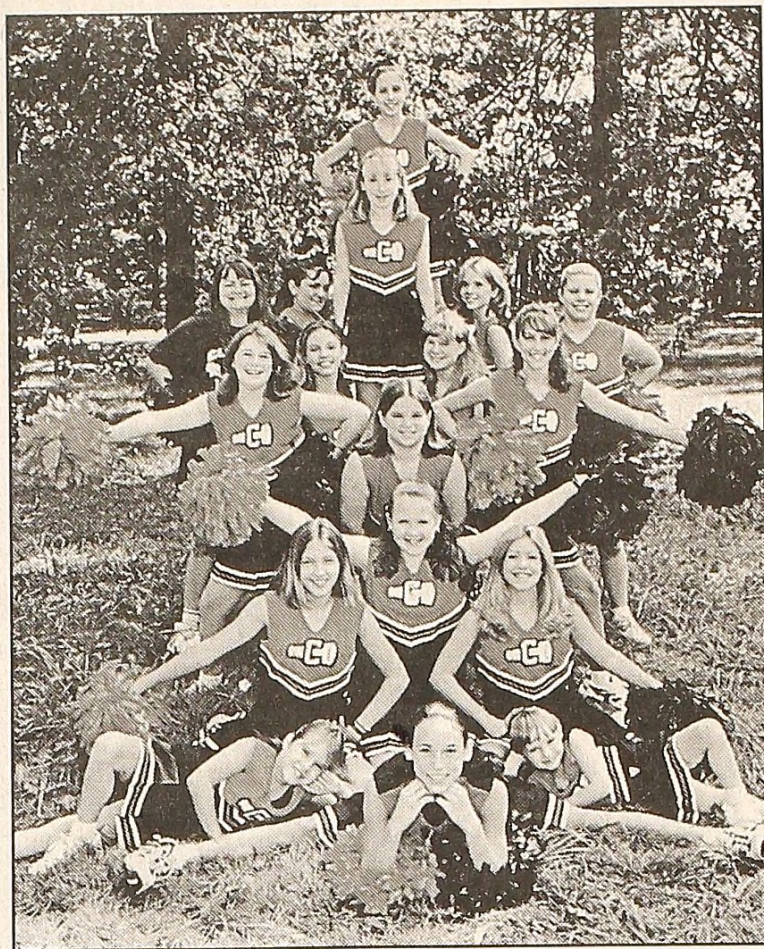

The down linemen are: Matt Turney (Harrison), Ryan McCracken (Northville) and DeLore Semaan (Western); the ends/outside linebackers are Cody Cargill (Western) and Zach Burton (Harrison), while the linebackers' corps also includes Nemer Haddad (Western), Jonah Sabin (Northville) and Pat Holland (Canton). Rounding out the team are defensive backs Ryan Kearney (Churchill), Blake Boesky (Harrison) and Colin MacFarlane (Northville).

The specialist is Luciano Gonzalez (Western).

The 1998 All-Lakes Division, on offense, looks like this: Quarterback Cory Heitsch (Central), running backs are Jason Lukasik (Salem), Andy Kocoloski (Salem) and Andy Movalson (Central).

The line is made up of cen-

TDs in the third period as he raced 50 yards into the Sturgis end zone and later bolted through a maze of defenders for an 85-yard superb TD run.

Russell finished off the evening with touchdown runs of two and 48.

No other running back in the school's history has ever scored six touchdowns in varsity competition or rushed for 365 yards in a single game.

No other running back in the school's history has ever scored six touchdowns in varsity competition...

And Sturgis' defense knew from the opening kickoff that to beat Romulus they had to stop Russell.

Romulus quarterback Robert Boykins teamed up with his favorite target end Carleton McCauley on a 21-yard touchdown pass and Boykins and combined with A. C. Chadwick on a two-point conversion.

Sure-footed Derek Plave continued to hit his mark. He connected on six point-after.

Despite the fact that the Romulus defense spotted Sturgis 14 points in the first 14 minutes of the game, the Eagles did get the job done once they settled in. Linebacker Rick Foster continued to stand out as he contributed five solos and had seven assists, while tackle Damien Crawford managed to deflect two Sturgis passes and also had a sack of the quarterback.

Lions honor Glenn coach Gordon

The Detroit Lions may not be winning these days, but they definitely know a winner when they see one.

For his team's outstanding performance against Wayne Memorial in the regular season's finale, Westland John Glenn's Chuck Gordon was named the recipient of the Detroit Lions' High School Coach of the Week award.

Gordon's Rockets shot down arch rival Wayne Memorial 34-0 to end the regular season with an 8-1 record. Glenn rode into the Class AA playoffs with a Western Lakes Conference, Lakes Division title, but unfortunately dropped a close 17-4 game to host, Brighton, on Saturday.

The loss ended the Rockets' 1998 campaign.

Gordon was an all-state selection as a prep at Central one coach that best develops his players' character, discipline and football skills is recognized for his commitment to the team, school and community.

The selection of the honorary award is made by a trio of veteran sports writers. The panel includes: Mick McCabe of the Detroit Free Press; Jane Bos, Grand Rapids Press; and Hugh Bernreuter, from the Saginaw News.

Last season's program awarded a total of $5,500 dollars to deserving coaches and their football programs. This season's programs will award $37,500 top aid in the development and promotion of high school football thanks to contributions from Coach Ross and the Lions.

Each winning coach throughout the regular season will receive a $3,500 donation to his school's football program. All weekly winners will be honored at an awards ceremony during halftime of the Lions-Falcons game on Dec. 20.

In addition to the monetary award, all winners receive a framed certificate signed by the Lions' head coach Bobby Ross, National Football League (NFL) Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, as well as former Detroit Lion and current NFL Director of Football Development, Gene Washington.

Winning coaches also will receive a personalized game ball, a Detroit Lions' "Coach of the Week" hat, and T-shirts for the entire team.

Stingrays seeking swimmers

If you're a junior swimmer and would like to improve your skills, head on down to the Wayne-Westland YWCA where the Stingray Swim Club is accepting registration for its new members for the 1998-99 season.

The philosophy behind the junior swim program is that everyone swims, and that there are no losers. "It's for fun," says YWCA officials.

For more information on how to register and registration fees, contact the YWCA at 734-721-7044 or stop by the facility which is located at 827 South Wayne Road.

ter Rob Welch (Salem), and the interior linemen are Jeremy Bogushaw (John Glenn), Jim Walker (John Glenn), Jung Kim (Farmington) and Jake Leonhardt (Center).

Only one tight end was honored and he's David Lewandowski of Glenn.

The wide receivers are Lewandowski's teammate Eric Jones (Glenn) and Brian Lafer (North Farmington).

Named to the all-Lakes Division Team on defense were: Down linemen Calvin Hill (John Glenn), Thomas Foor (Salem) and Brandon Hine (Stevenson); the end-outside linebackers slots were filled by Brad Arsenault (Stevenson) and Mike Higgins (Central), while the linebackers for this outstanding team are Amran Gowani (North Farmington), Bobby Hagelthorn (John Glenn) and Joe Higgins (Central)

Rounding out the defensive lineup are backs Nick Pad-dock (Glenn), Dustin Gress (Farmington), and Matt Mays (Stevenson).

The specialist is Jason Furr, of Salem fame.

Here is the line of players (and their schools) who were awarded Honorable Mention:

Tigers add a swim coach

The Belleville Tiger Swim club has added a new face with a familiar name to its coaching lineup.

Jill Brooks, sister of former Tiger coach and swim instructor Shelly Brooks, has joined the club as a full-time assistant coach.

"We have searched since summer for the perfect person," and Jill seems to be it," said John Cast, BTSC president. "Jill is an excellent compliment to Eva Wortz, the BTSC head coach. Jill is an experienced swim coach and swim instructor. She allows us to add a better swimmer-to-coach ratio, and allows us to once again begin learn-to-swim."

As full-time assistant, Jill assists Wortz in all facets of swimmer training and event coaching. Jill's primary focus will be on stroke instruction with the older kids and working on fundamentals with the younger swimmers.

"I'm very happy to join the Tiger Swim Club staff," Brooks said. "This is a good chance to work with some great kids who have a lot of potential."

While in high school, Brooks earned varsity letters as a guard on the basketball team. She also lettered as a member of the softball team.

"I've only recently begun coaching swimming, but I have always enjoyed the sport."

Brooks brings four years of swim coaching experience to the team.

The 21-year-old Brooks is a third-year student at Eastern Michigan University where she is majoring in elementary education.

She currently serves as a coach at the Huron School District where she coaches swimming and girls basketball.

Meteors play in Super Bowl

The Westland Youth Athletic Association's Meteors have been invited to play in the Western Suburban Junior Football League's Super Bowl.

The Meteors, coached by Jack Cichocki, will take a 7-1 record into the game against the Plymouth Steelers, who are undefeated in eight starts.

The game will be played at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Annapolis High Football Field, located on Pardee and Annapolis Road.

The Bowl Games will begin around 11 a.m. with the Ann Arbor Wildcats squaring off with the Northville Colts.

The Junior Varsity Bowl Game pits the Canton Lions against the Ann Arbor Eagles.

How to choose a career using horoscopes

★By Jan Vella★

Aries
Aries love to be anywhere there is a lot going on. They make excellent airline pilots, police officers or newspaper reporters. They enjoy sports and are often outstanding athletes or sports announcers. Race car driving would be right up their alley, as they love speed! They are also very adventurous and would love leading a safari or being the first person to walk on Mars!

Taurus
Taurus is a money magnet and would do very well in anything financial, such as banking, accounting, real estate or marketing. They have great business sense and make outstanding advisors and supervisors. Also, as an Earth sign, they enjoy working outdoors, perhaps gardening or landscaping or construction work. Many Taureans also have wonderful voices and make excellent singers and disc jockeys.

Gemini
Gemini is said to be the most versatile sign in the zodiac, so their options and abilities are almost limitless. They love communicating with people whether that be by telephone, radio or newspaper. They often make fantastic lawyers and teachers, or, due to their fast, nimble fingers, excellent typists or computer operators. One thing they just cannot abide is boredom or highly detailed work. They just don't have the patience!

Cancer
Cancer, like Taurus, is often very good with money, knowing instinctively how to earn it and save it. They make successful bankers and insurance salesmen. They are also very fond of children and would enjoy teaching or day care work, or perhaps driving a school bus. Many Cancerians are excellent cooks and could find success as a gourmet chef! Due to their compassionate natures, they also make good nurses and aides.

Leo
Leos want to be anywhere they can be noticed and admired. The entertainment field is loaded with talented Leos, who love to be dramatic, but also love to make people laugh. Politics is also an excellent arena for them to shine. They make inspiring teachers, journalists and public speakers. They are often very creative and could be successful artists or fashion designers, as well.

Virgo
Virgo is considered the sign of service, so they do well in anything that caters to the public or helps others. They can be wonderful doctors and nurses, store clerks, tax accountants or teachers. They enjoy detailed work, so would make good chemists, drafting engineers or research scientists. With their discriminating nature, they would also make terrific book or movie critics!

Libra
Libras love anything that looks, smells or feels good. They would be good at anything artistic, such as interior design, jewelry making or even modeling. They enjoy working with people, as in sales work, the restaurant business or giving guided tours at an art museum or gallery. They also make fantastic secretaries and receptionists, due to their pleasant manner.

Scorpio
Scorpios love figuring things out, so most of them would love being a private investigator or work for the CIA or FBI! They can be tireless and hard-working, as a political campaign manager or newspaper reporter or editor. They would make a good surgeon, due to their intensity and focus. Many of them also do well as tough-minded judges or lawyers.

Sagittarius
Sagittarius always wants to be on the move, and, if they're outdoors, that's even better! They love animals, so would make a great veterinarian or horse trainer or ranch hand. They would love to travel around the world, whether as an airline pilot or train engineer or truck driver. With their love of honesty and justice, they would do well in the law field or teaching profession.

Capricorn Caps can do just about anything they set their minds to do. They love the business world, making deals, having meetings, working overtime at the office. They're often drawn to politics or medicine, or would make an excellent press agent or manager for someone in the entertainment field. They all eventually want to be in charge!

Aquarius
Aquarians love whatever's new and different. They love working with computers and machines, often making good electricians or repairmen. They have vivid imaginations, so could be successful artists, authors or movie actors. They, too, love to travel and explore new places and wouldn't mind living out of a suitcase. There are an enormous amount of famous inventors who were Aquarian, as well.

Pisces
Pisces love anything creative and dramatic, which would make them fabulous actors, dancers or storytellers. They enjoy being by water, so working on a cruise ship or fishing boat or even bartending at a beachside cantina would be heaven for them. Also, because of their kind and sympathetic natures, they make excellent nurses, caregivers and school counselors.

Team members traveled in and around the country to research innovative dining concepts. The result, Zehnder's Marketplace & Z Chef's Cafe offers a 100-seat casual food service environment that features an open kitchen framework where the Zehnder's of Frankenmuth is located 90 miles north of Detroit in Frankenmuth, Mich. The Bavarian town of Frankenmuth is one of the state's top tourist destinations with more than 3 million visitors each year in addition to its restaurant, marketplace, bakery and gift store. Zehnder's of Frankenmuth owns and operates the 18-hole championship golf voted the best day trip in Michigan by Detroit News readers, and Zehnder's was honored as one of the top vacation-stop restaurants in the state.

Nissan King Cab rated best

By VIC BERNSTEIN
MCN Staff Writer

This vehicle was rated for the 1999 model year as Best Compact Pickup in Initial Quality by J.D. Power and Associates. This vehicle is being produced in the USA at the Modern and award Winning Smyrna, Tennessee plant. It can best be compared to the Chevy S-10, Ford Ranger, and Toyota Tacoma. So lets see what it has to offer.

Power. This vehicle is powered by a responsive 3.3 liter SOHC 16 Valve (170 HP @ 4800 Rpm's) V6 multi port electronic fuel injected gas engine. The block is cast iron with aluminum heads. I found it to be very adequately powered both in town and on the Highway. This vehicle is rated to tow 5000 lb. Beware of getting this vehicle with the smaller engine package as this is the match.

Drivetrain. This model was equipped with a well performing 4 speed automatic transmission with overdrive and Part time 2 speed 4X4 that delivers very adequate power in a smooth and quiet manor. The maximum tow rating is for 5000 LB, and unlike some of the other compact pickups I have tested, it does have the power to tow with passengers and cargo on board. If you need more towing capacity, you need to be looking at a larger and more powerful truck. This is a strong compact pickup truck.

Handling. Equipped with power assist forward disk and aft drum brakes, power assisted steering, 3 channel and 4 sensor rear anti-lock brakes, It has good stopping power. Steering is power assisted recirculating ball rated at 17.6 and tested at 39 feet. Suspension is good. The front suspension is a double wishbone with stabilizing bar. The rear suspension is solid axle with leaf spring suspension. I found the ride to be pleasant, enjoyable, and very responsive.

Gas Mileage. It is rated as 15 MPG city and 19 MPG Highway and estimated annual fuel cost of $1,014. The recommended fuel is unleaded regular. I used the truck for a week and was averaged in the middle of these ranges. This model comes with a 19.4 US gallon capacity.

Safety. The Frontier has the standard 2nd generation due; airbags with a passenger side on/off switch. The passengers are protected by steel pipe side door panel protectors, energy absorbing steering wheel and front crumple zones. The seat belts are comfortable and visibility is very good. Together with the handling and power attributes, I believe this to be a product dedicated to safety. I am not an advocate of the aft jump seats as I do not feel these to be safe. A compact pickup is not a "family car", but in a pinch I would use the jumpseats.

As always with my demo, I was not allowed the privilege of crash testing. This vehicle has Driver and Passenger airbags, steel side door protection beams, an energy absorbing steering wheel, comfortable seat belts, front and rear head rests. While driving I felt comfortable that the vehicle was responsive and that it had no major blind spots. The Dashboard Instrumentation. My demo had the usual basics and the design was driver friendly. The dashboard instrumentation was both functional and attractive. Specifically, the Frontier is equipped with a speedometer, Tach, LCD odometer, and digital clock on the audio display.

Comfort. As the driver I would give this vehicle high marks for comfort. In many ways it has the comfort of a passenger car. I loved the storage capacity of the back seat extended cab. I would not recommend putting passengers in the back, while it has two side facing jumpseats. There was more than ample room to store tools, transport groceries, and other items that typically in other non extended cab pickup trucks must ride in the passenger seating area. In regards to getting in and out, leg room, I was very pleased. The climate control was wonderful and the sound system was very good. My demo had the premium audio with CD and cassette, five speakers, and 100 watts of power with a DOLBY noise reduction system. I would give this truck good grades in this area.

Other Miscellaneous Amenities.

I loved the style and aesthetics of this vehicle. The solid Platinum paint job has a wonderful look and the body style is rich. The interior had a tough, and very attractive cloth interior. It had cruise control and power windows and remote door locking, power side view mirrors and tinted windows. The vehicle had a manual sunroof, the bed had a over the rail bedliner, With the easy to use 4WD, it was packed full of amenities.

The bottom line. I loved my time with this truck and it was hard to give up the keys I like to buy American and I like to tell my friends to buy American. This built in the US import is a good product, and I like it. I honestly could not find anything negative to say about this vehicles. The suggested list price tag on this model was $24,017 which is what one expects to pay for a compact pickup truck of this caliber. This product has more amenities then some of the American 1998 models we tested. If your in the market for a new pick up, I suggest you consider this product. And pet owners, this vehicle got the big paws up from my K9 test associate, Simba. I have to say it again, I liked this truck.

"What Five Stars Mean To You"

The five-star government frontal crash test rating is based on testing conducted and standards established by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). The rating is designed to be easy for consumers to understand, similar to movie ratings in the local newspaper. Achieving the highest five-star rating, however, is no easy matter. The NHTSA bases its ratings on the results of actual vehicle crashes into a fixed barrier at 35 mph. Head and chest injury data are then combined into a single rating, reflecting a vehicle's relative level of crash protection in a head-on collision.
